

Stimulating Scientific Quality Improvement Program in Young ST Human Resources for Self-sustainable Empowerment

A program at IACS funded by

Science for Equity, Empowerment & Development (SEED) Division
Department of Science & Technology
Government of India

The aim of the program is to identify graduate students from the Scheduled Tribe (ST) community from the eastern and north eastern region to inspire them in science and research. The program will provide the requisite facilities to arouse research and scientific interests for the sustainable development of young manpower. The program is undertaken for the scientific capacity building in the young ST community for their sustainable future.

The objective of the project is following:

- Identification of meritorious graduate science students (Female and Male) for short-term scientific laboratory training & interdisciplinary research training program.
- Visual demonstration & training of the leading scientific instruments & laboratory training.
- Organizing schools/workshops for the graduate science students.
- Outreach program through laboratory demonstration in the remote areas.

Short-term academic scholarship for participating on-campus training for 3 months will be provided for the meritorious short-listed candidates. A maximum of 10 students will be selected at a time and the scholarship will be provided twice yearly.

Outreach laboratory demonstration program/ Field activities/ Practical training of advanced scientific equipments will be conducted for pursuing higher studies in scientific research for sustainable future of the participant students. The students will be offered participation certificates.
