The Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science (IACS), a premier Scientific Research and Teaching Institute, is a society registered under Act XXI of 1860 and the corresponding State Act viz. the West Bengal State Registration Act 1961, with its headquarters at 2A & 2B, Raja S. C. Mallick Road, Calcutta - 700 032, West Bengal, India. In 2018, IACS has been conferred a Deemed to be University status under de novo category. Founded in the year 1876 by Dr. Mahendralal Sircar, an acclaimed medical practitioner of his time, IACS is the oldest scientific institution in Asia funded by the Department of Science & Technology, Government of India and the Government of West Bengal. Sir C.V. Raman made his historic discovery of 'Raman Effect' at IACS. It continues to adorn the mantle of academic and intellectual excellence in India and abroad. Today 143 years after its inception, IACS continues to adorn the mantle of academic and intellectual excellence in India and abroad and now stands at the crossroad of a critical era. Apart from fundamental researches in the various frontier areas of physics and chemistry, IACS has ventured in a significant way, for the past few years, into the emerging multidisciplinary areas such as non-conventional energy sources, advanced and novel nano-materials, chemical biology and interdisciplinary sciences. The institute wishes to consolidate in the fields it has long-established reputations, and at the same time looks forward to integrating them to application and translational research in the emerging areas.

In 2019, Institute is offering undergraduate and postgraduate programs as:

(1) Integrated Bachelor's and Master's Program in Science-2019
